VOLGA VALLEY HAS NO FAMINE

Stork Makes Valiant Fight to Keep Pace With Grim Peaper During Recent Months.

(By Associated Press) BUZULUK, Samara Province, Russin, April 12.- (By Mail.) - There has been no baby famine in the Volga valley. Even during the six months just passed, when hundreds of thousands of adults and children have died, the stork has made a valiant fight to keep apace with the reaper. Accurate statistics are just as lacking on the birth rate as on the death rate, but an observer in the famine districts finds on every hand evidence that the peasant mothers have been fruitful even when the land was not.

The Samara district, despite the ravages of famine among children last autumn, literally swarms with infants.

Thousands of new born babies, thrust upon famine stricken communities by undernourished mothers probably have died within a few days or weeks after birth. Others are tiny living skeletons with drawn faces like old men. But most of them whom the correspondent saw at railway stations, in box cars riding with their mothers to some more tru'ttul region and elsewhere did seem plump and rosy and happy-

An American relief administration census of Samara province last September showed that 44 per cent of the inhabitants were children under 16 years of age. While the mortallty among children was very high last September they have received · food from American and elsewhere Noon . since then which the adults have not 29 4 and the death rate receitly has been 22 . higher among men than among either 49 4 adult women or children.
